Case Study: Australian positive Carbon House

Archiblox's carbon positive house is running for world sustainability award. Livos having played a small role by featuring many of the products on the exterior as well as internal coatings, the house made the top 10 list for the international Sustainia Award, beating 1,500 others to secure a finalist spot. Product Information

For all products, whether natural like Livos or synthetic, it is imperative that the preparation, application as well as maintenance instructions are followed. This is the only way to keep anything from a bench top, floor, deck or painted walls and everything in-between in an optimal condition.

We have simple to follow how to sheets, videos as well as care and maintenance and rejuvenation sheets available on our web site. Please download or ask your retailer for a copy.

Hints and Tips

When you've gone to the trouble of sourcing out good materials and undertaking the work, it is worth maintaining your surface for longevity..

Points of Interest

Livos co-director Angela Petruzzi from Bayswater, Victoria, argues that paint manufacturers should list all their paint ingredients to help consumers avoid non regulated nasties and toxic volatile organic compounds (VOCs), which cause health and indoor air pollution problems. An odour-free house paint can still contain harmful levels of VOCs. For more information, click here.

Expo Dates

The Passive house conference Melbourne - February 12-13th at the Sidney Myer Asia Centre, 158/761 Swanston St, Parkville VIC 3052. From 8.30am to 5pm Friday and Saturday.
