June 2015

With the year flying by the colder months have been keeping us nice and busy. There have been a number of expos which Livos has been proud to exhibit all around our beautiful country. Coupled with the completion of some amazing projects. So if you have something to share we would love to hear from you so please let us know any feedback

Kindest regards Angela Petruzzi

Grand Designs at Kinglake

One very exciting project that has been the culmination of many years was featured on Grand Designs Australia. This amazing property in Kinglake Victoria premiered on the 18th June on Foxtel. This home features Livos's Kunos on unique ply flooring and Dubron paint on all the plaster wall. More information can be found here

Archiblox Carbon Positive Home

The Archiblox Carbon Positive home is certainly creating an exciting buzz, appearing in numerous articles and soon to be a "The Living Room" feature to be aired during July the word is certainly spreading. Being recognised as eTool certified and receiving their platinum rating is an outstanding achievement of their commitment to the full lifecycle process and those products like Livos that support this positive step in building.

Wantirna Hall

We are so pleased to bring you another amazing large project completed by Anro Natural Floorcare. After the cost effective study was submitted and considered by the school committee this project will benefit not only the student's health but the budget as well.

The Bendy Bus

This very unusual home is a project of love by a Tasmanian family, converting a bendy bus into their home. With limited space it was extremely important that finishes be safe but durable for their family. Using Kunos white on walls and Kunos on floor and ceiling they are thrilled with the results. You can follow their journey on their blog. <http://bendybushouse.blogspot.com.au/>

No Palm Oil in Livos Products

After seeing a number of news and documentaries regarding hidden palm oil in some products we would like to confirm that the Livos products contain no palm oil at all in any of our products.

All our articles now on the website

To help our clients find all the information they are after we are very pleased to finally have all the articles referred to in our newsletters available for easy viewing. See a wide range of completed homes, helpful articles, product reviews and more. All available here

Sanctuary

Sanctuary winter Issue 31 - This innovative home by Archiblox - referred to as the Carbon positive house.

Developed and created through innovative design sensitivities and new technologies. The CPH has moved beyond carbon zero by making additional 'positive' contributions by producing more energy on-site than the building requires. With Livos Kunos (clear and stain) used throughout the home on ply ceilings, walls and kitchen joinery, on magnesium oxide boards on floor as well as Alis decking oil on exterior façade surfaces

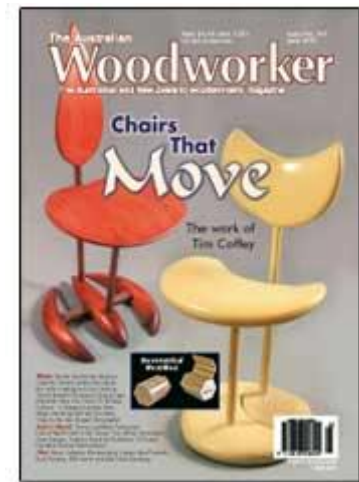

Green Magazine

Issue 43

Featured on page 40 is Holidaying at Home - An Irish family keen to 'holiday at home' on a bush block outside Ballarat got just what they ordered with a clever house designed for bushfire safety and dramatically cantilevered to embrace gorgeous views. Using Kunos on their concrete.

On page 48 is Hilltop Hideaway - with views towards the Melbourne city skyline, this new tri-level high spec home is designed for 21st century living. Featuring white Kunos on their ply ceilings

Australian Woodworker

Featured in the May / June issue of The Australian Woodworker is the Livos Vindo paint. Vindo can be used for a multitude of purposes, internally and externally, wood and metal, after it has been pre-treated. Available in a range of beautiful colors. It provides a glossy weather resistant finish. Turn to page 73 of the magazine for all the details.
