Congratulations to Neathouse in Tasmania who won the Display Home section of the HIA Australian Greensmart Awards. We think the Alis decking oil looks fantastic externally!

Sanctuary Issue 35 Page 52 Family Hub

Located on a tight site and a busy cycleway, this classic weatherboard has been artfully renovated to meet the needs of an active and creative family, and to provide every room with a garden view. Livos is used on the floors, walls and ceiling.

Sanctuary Issue 36 Page 44 A Collective Effort

With a new rammed earth wall and concrete slab in the extension, this classic Melbourne weatherboard now achieves a 6.8 Stars and has gained a new lease on life. Livos oil is used internally.

Sanctuary Issue 36 Page 20 Inspired by Nature.

This WA family set out to build the most sustainable, natural and comfortable home they could afford, and they left no stone unturned to achieve a comfortable 9.4 Star house. Livos Grava primer was used on internal limestone and Ardvos wood oil is used on all cabinets and internal walls.

Sanctuary Issue 36 Page 36 Hempcrete House

Building with hemp is still a novelty in Australia, but interest continues to grow. This house in inner-Sydney is built using hempcrete for its low embodied energy and excellent acoustic and thermal performance. Livos is used on timber.

Green Issue 47 page 59 In The Raw

A former printing press has maintained its quiet industrial presence in the neighbourhood thanks to a thoughtful conversation. Livos oils were used on concrete.

Customer Feedback

Always lovely to hear feedback from clients, and we can't help but share!

"Robert was easy to contact, gave us a fair quote and was conscientious with his work. We are very happy with the outcome."

- Laura

"Thank you for the Livos delivery and the Trena cleaner. We have been busy applying the Linus and oil to our concrete floors and we are very impressed with the result. Great smelling, no chemical off gassing which is great as we are on our hands and knees buffing it with cloths rather than a machine. What a beautiful tactile finish. I love the feel and the look. Thank you for such a great product."

- Jenny

Thanks for your feedback Laura and Jenny!
